Fontana's Morning Howl

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

The first light of morning, a sound I knew well
A hound dog's deep howl, a story to tell
You'd lay on our heads if we didn't quite stir
A furry warm blanket, a soft, loving blur
Your long, floppy ears, so gentle and deep
A secret shared softly, while others still sleep

Chorus

Oh, Fontana, dear boy, for seven good years
You chased away shadows and quieted fears
A loyal heart beating, a comfort and grace
There's an empty spot now, but you hold your place

Verse 2

Our morning strolls started, the world fresh and new
Every leaf, every scent, explored there with you
Then later each evening, a soft, sleepy sigh
Just snuggled up close as the dark sky passed by
A rumble of thunder could make your heart race
But now there's no storm that can touch your sweet face

Chorus

Oh, Fontana, dear boy, for seven good years
You chased away shadows and quieted fears
A loyal heart beating, a comfort and grace
There's an empty spot now, but you hold your place

Bridge

My final soft whisper, I sent on the breeze
Say hello to new friends, beneath sun-dappled trees
Run free now, sweet spirit, no sorrow, no pain
I'll catch you, my darling, when we meet again

Instrumental - harmonica, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh, Fontana, dear boy, for seven good years
You chased away shadows and quieted fears
A loyal heart beating, a comfort and grace
There's an empty spot now, but you hold your place

Outro

Now you're running free, where the warm sun does gleam
Living out every good dog's perfect sweet dream
No more thunder scares, just peace in your soul
Fontana, my dear boy, forever made whole

Outro - acoustic guitar fade

Forever in our hearts
