Intro - acoustic guitar, ukulele

Verse 1

I remember your little fake sneeze, a clever trick you knew
Just to get my attention, always seeing me through
You'd race down the passage, a fluffy blur, a happy sound
Barking at the car door, first one off the ground
Every morning, a sweet joy, a bright and happy start
A tiny Bichon Poodle, with a huge and loving heart.

Chorus

Oh, Bailey, my sweet girl, for eight bright years you stayed
Every moment a treasure, a beautiful memory made
We celebrate your spirit, your laughter and your light
You filled our days with sunshine, and made everything feel right.

Verse 2

Those long walks on the beach, with the ocean at our feet
Your happy little prance, every moment felt so sweet
And when I'd finally come home, your tail a frantic blur
Such pure, unbounded happiness, a loving, soft fur
Afterward, a gentle snore, beneath the afternoon's soft glow
My heart would swell with gladness, watching your sweet dreams flow.

Chorus

Bailey's Beach Day Joy (continued)

Oh, Bailey, my sweet girl, for eight bright years you stayed
Every moment a treasure, a beautiful memory made
We celebrate your spirit, your laughter and your light
You filled our days with sunshine, and made everything feel right.

Verse 3

Your smart little mind loved puzzles, a challenge you would seize,
And racing through the dog tunnel, you'd fly with such an ease.
With George, you were a protector, chasing others from his way,
You'd whimper for attention, getting louder every day.
A stoic, smiling soul girl, never showing me your pain,
You gave me endless reasons to enjoy life once again.

Bridge

Though tears may fall like raindrops, a love that won't depart
You live within my memories, forever in my heart
My sweet baby girl, I'll love you forever, it's true
Every single moment, I will cherish you.

Instrumental - ukulele, glockenspiel

Final Chorus

Oh, Bailey, my sweet girl, for eight bright years you stayed
Every moment a treasure, a beautiful memory made
We celebrate your spirit, your laughter and your light
You filled our days with sunshine, and made everything feel right.

Outro - acoustic guitar fade

Now you're running free through the sand, a joyful, happy sight
Barking at all your friends, bathed in golden light
Sleeping peacefully in the afternoon sun, a dream so soft and deep
In my heart, your memory, I will always keep.
