Nymeria's Gentle Rest

A Tribute Song

Intro - Rhodes piano, soft strings

Verse 1

I remember that day so clear and bright
A Wal-mart parking lot, bathed in pale Ohio light
You were all black fur, a tiny, precious sight
So small and brave, ready for your flight

Chorus

Oh, Nymeria, my sweet girl, my little star
Seven and a half years, no matter how far
You're sleeping now, where all good memories are
You left a paw print on my heart, a gentle scar

Verse 2

When bedtime came, and the world grew still and deep
You'd curl up beside me, secrets we would keep
Every turn I made, you'd match me in your sleep
A quiet promise, though my heart would often weep

Chorus

Oh, Nymeria, my sweet girl, my little star
Seven and a half years, no matter how far
You're sleeping now, where all good memories are
You left a paw print on my heart, a gentle scar

Bridge

I love you baby girl, I hope you're not alone tonight
Enjoying yourself, bathed in heaven's golden light
I miss you every day, with all of my might

I'll see you again someday, waiting by the pearly gates, so bright

Instrumental - nylon guitar, soft strings

Final Chorus

Oh, Nymeria, my sweet girl, my little star
Seven and a half years, no matter how far
You're sleeping now, where all good memories are
You left a paw print on my heart, a gentle scar

Outro - Rhodes piano fade

I hope you're happy now, no fears to hold you down
Getting all the attention, the sweetest treats in town
No longer alone, wearing your angel's crown
My sweet Nymeria, safe in a peaceful ground.

Forever in our hearts
