Oppie's Joyful Spirit

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, ukulele

Verse 1

A tiny paw, a wagging tail, a bark so sweet and bright,
You trotted in, a little king, and filled our world with light.
I still recall that first hello, your floppy ears so grand,
A bundle of pure joy you were, the best in all the land.
You'd chase the ball, a tiny blur, with spirit wild and free,
A loyal friend, a precious gift, for all the world to see.
Your feisty heart, your playful spark, a treasure beyond compare,
You brought us laughter, love, and light, chasing away all care.

Chorus

Oh, Oppie, our sweet Oppie, for seven happy years,
You filled our home with endless love, dispelling all our fears.
A tiny hero, true and kind, a sunbeam on the floor,
Your memory lives inside our hearts forevermore.

Verse 2

No special day, no grand event, just every single day,
Your happy bark, your morning greet, chasing the blues away.
Curled on my lap, a gentle purr, a soft and peaceful sigh,
You taught us lessons, pure and true, beneath the open sky.
A mischievous glint within your eyes, a tilt of curious head,
The comfort of your quiet paw, beside us on the bed.
Each moment shared, a golden thread, woven into our soul,
You made our broken pieces mend, and always made us whole.

Chorus

Oh, Oppie, our sweet Oppie, for seven happy years,
You filled our home with endless love, dispelling all our fears.

A tiny hero, true and kind, a sunbeam on the floor,
Your memory lives inside our hearts forevermore.

Bridge

Now silence fills the empty space, where laughter used to bloom,
My heart still aches, a tender plea, to chase away the gloom.
"I miss you buddy so much," I whisper to the air,
Knowing your spirit dances free, beyond all earthly care.

Instrumental - ukulele solo, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh, Oppie, our sweet Oppie, for seven happy years,
You filled our home with endless love, dispelling all our fears.
A tiny hero, true and kind, a sunbeam on the floor,
Your memory lives inside our hearts forevermore.

Outro

I feel your presence, soft and warm, as if I'm holding you,
Running free through sunlit fields, beneath the skies of blue.
Our little star, you shine so bright, in realms beyond our sight,
Goodnight, sweet Oppie, sleep in peace, wrapped in eternal light.

Outro - acoustic guitar fade, ukulele

Forever in our hearts
