Storm, My Heart's Embrace

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, mandolin

Verse 1

I wasn't searching for a furry friend,
Thought my heart had reached its end.
But then you found me, a tiny, sweet surprise,
Reflected in your trusting eyes.
I drove to get you, and love bloomed so fast,
A bond I knew was meant to last.
You snuggled into my neck so tight,
And landed in my heart that very night.

Chorus

Oh, Storm, my dear, my sweet companion true,
Eleven and a half perfect years I spent with you.
My little poodle, a light in every day,
How can I ever say goodbye and walk away?

Verse 2

Each morning sun, a gentle, tender start,
With you right there, so close to my heart.
We'd play together in the backyard green,
The happiest moments I have ever seen.
And every evening, curled up on my lap,
Before we drifted into dreams and nap.
Each minute, Storm, a gift from up above,
Filled every corner of my life with love.

Chorus

Oh, Storm, my dear, my sweet companion true,
Eleven and a half perfect years I spent with you.

Storm, My Heart's Embrace (continued)

My little poodle, a light in every day,
How can I ever say goodbye and walk away?

Bridge

You knew I needed you before I did,
Your gentle wisdom, never hid.
You were my everything, my world, my very breath,
My every heartbeat, defying even death.
I love you more than any spoken word can say,
And miss you more with each passing day.

Instrumental - acoustic guitar, mandolin, soft percussion

Final Chorus

Oh, Storm, my dear, my sweet companion true,
Eleven and a half perfect years I spent with you.
My little poodle, a light in every day,
How can I ever say goodbye and walk away?

Outro - acoustic guitar fade

Now running free, chasing your favourite ball,
Basking in the sun, beyond the wall.
Peaceful and bright, beneath the sky so wide,
Forever in my heart, you will reside.

Forever in our hearts
