Bubbles' Endless Field

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, strings

Verse 1

I remember the sound, a familiar happy tune
Your click-clack nails dancing, beneath the morning moon
Then soft morning hugs, a sweet and gentle nudge
Your wet nose seeking kisses, no moment ever judged

You'd stretch with joyful grace, a daily, loving start
Then jump up on the kitchen chair, so curious and smart
To see what we were cooking, with eyes so bright and keen
A vibrant, loyal spirit, the best dog ever seen.

Chorus

Oh, Bubbles, sweet Bubbles, for six short precious years
You filled our home with laughter, and dried away our tears
A love so pure and constant, a light that shone so bright
Forever in our memories, you'll be our guiding light.

Verse 2

Our seven AM cuddles, a moment soft and true
Your warm head on my chest, a bond that only grew
We'd linger in the quiet, just you and I awake
For every single morning's peace, a promise we would make

Your deep and soulful gaze, a wisdom in your eyes
A gentle, loving presence, beneath the morning skies
You taught us so much patience, and joy in simple things
The comfort that your presence, effortlessly brings.

Chorus

Oh, Bubbles, sweet Bubbles, for six short precious years

Bubbles' Endless Field (continued)

You filled our home with laughter, and dried away our tears
A love so pure and constant, a light that shone so bright
Forever in our memories, you'll be our guiding light.

Bridge

"Go run free," I whispered, with tears I tried to hold
"I will find you again someday," a story to unfold
Across the bridge of rainbows, beyond the fading sun
Our journey isn't over, our time is not yet done.

Instrumental - cello solo, strings, piano

Final Chorus

Oh, Bubbles, sweet Bubbles, for six short precious years
You filled our home with laughter, and dried away our tears
A love so pure and constant, a light that shone so bright
Forever in our memories, you'll be our guiding light.

Outro - piano, strings fade

Now running free, sweet Bubbles, in fields of endless green
No more pain, no suffering, the most beautiful scene
Through tall grass you are soaring, beneath an open sky
A peaceful, joyful spirit, we'll cherish till we die.

Forever in our hearts
