Sharie's Gentle Light

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, acoustic guitar

Verse 1

From the moment our eyes met, a quiet understanding grew,
A gentle paw, a loving gaze, always faithful, always true.
Through every season, sun and rain, you walked right by our side,
Our dearest Sharie, our sweet dog, with nowhere left to hide.
A silent promise in your heart, a bond that wouldn't cease,
You brought our home a quiet joy, a feeling of deep peace.
A soul mate in a furry form, a comfort soft and deep,
While all the world around us slept, your watchful love we'd keep.

Chorus

Oh, Sharie, our sweet Sharie, nineteen years we shared with you,
Three months and twenty-three days, a love so strong and true.
You were the sun, you were the moon, a constant, guiding light,
Now silence whispers in the rooms, throughout the day and night.

Verse 2

I still recall those sunlit days, down at the grassy park,
Your happy barks, your playful ways, a vibrant, joyous spark.
That worn-out ball, your greatest prize, tossed high into the blue,
The sheer delight within your eyes, as you would chase it through.
A happy blur of motion bright, a spirit running free,
You filled our world with pure delight, for all the world to see.

Chorus

Oh, Sharie, our sweet Sharie, nineteen years we shared with you,
Three months and twenty-three days, a love so strong and true.
You were the sun, you were the moon, a constant, guiding light,
Now silence whispers in the rooms, throughout the day and night.

Bridge

The final whisper, soft and low, a promise in the air,
"Just let me know when you want to come back," you said, beyond compare.
And in that moment, hearts entwined, a truth began to bloom,
Our souls will meet again, we'll find, dispelling every gloom.

Instrumental - piano, strings

Final Chorus

Oh, Sharie, our sweet Sharie, nineteen years we shared with you,
Three months and twenty-three days, a love so strong and true.
You were the sun, you were the moon, a constant, guiding light,
Now silence whispers in the rooms, throughout the day and night.

Outro

You're patiently waiting, we know it's true, beyond the fading light,
A peaceful slumber, soft and new, through endless day and night.
Dreaming of fields, forever free, until we meet once more,
Our Sharie, always part of me, forever at our door.

Outro - piano fade

Forever in our hearts
