PJ's Wildflower Field

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

From the start, your kind heart shone so bright,
A little Boston filled with pure delight.
Chasing tennis balls, a joyful, playful spree,
Flipping flopped, a funny sight to see.
You loved the grandkids, every single one,
Our sweetest blessing 'til your race was run.
With ears alert and eyes so keen and round,
The dearest friend we ever found.

Chorus

Oh, sweet PJ, through fifteen years and more,
You brought us joy right to our very core.
A faithful shadow, always by our side,
With you, our hearts felt full and open wide.

Verse 2

The quiet evenings, on the recliner deep,
We'd hear your gentle snores as you would sleep.
A cozy sound, a comfort soft and low,
While movies played, a peaceful, happy glow.
Before our walks, a special ritual dear,
A chosen toy held close, dispelling fear.
Around the block, you'd carry it with pride,
A precious treasure, always by your side.

Chorus

Oh, sweet PJ, through fifteen years and more,
You brought us joy right to our very core.

A faithful shadow, always by our side,
With you, our hearts felt full and open wide.

Bridge

I'll look for you, my sweet Princess, at the door,
When it's my turn, and I can ask no more.
My best little Boston, forever true,
My heart will always deeply cherish you.

Instrumental - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Final Chorus

Oh, sweet PJ, through fifteen years and more,
You brought us joy right to our very core.
A faithful shadow, always by our side,
With you, our hearts felt full and open wide.

Outro

Now young again, pain-free and light and free,
Running through fields of wildflowers, just for thee.
With all your friends, beneath the sun's warm gleam,
Living a joyful, endless, perfect dream.
Sweet PJ, sleeping soft and sound.

Outro - guitar fade

Forever in our hearts
