Jack's Endless Love

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, acoustic guitar

Verse 1

My little wire-haired friend, so full of grace,
Each day you'd welcome me with a smiling face.
Funny howls you'd make at toys so small,
Your happy spirit answered every call.
Loved the car rides, sitting on my lap so near,
Head out the window, banishing all fear.
Wind in your whiskers, pure joy in your eyes,
Beneath the vast and endless skies.

Chorus

Oh, Jack, my dear, for twelve long years we knew,
A love so pure, so honest, and so true.
A quiet whisper in the evening breeze,
My heart still longs for moments such as these.

Verse 2

I'd walk through the door, and there you'd be,
Dancing with excitement, just for me.
Your happy barks, a melody so clear,
Announcing to the world that Dad was here.
A special bond, a gentle, knowing gaze,
Through all our shared and sunlit days.

Chorus

Oh, Jack, my dear, for twelve long years we knew,
A love so pure, so honest, and so true.
A quiet whisper in the evening breeze,
My heart still longs for moments such as these.

Jack's Endless Love (continued)

Bridge

Our love is endless, with no barrier at all,
It stretches far beyond this earthly wall.
I wish I could have saved you, held you tight,
And kept you in my arms throughout the night.

Instrumental - piano, pads

Final Chorus

Oh, Jack, my dear, for twelve long years we knew,
A love so pure, so honest, and so true.
A quiet whisper in the evening breeze,
My heart still longs for moments such as these.

Outro

Now in heaven's fields, you run and play,
With Wren and Baby, bright as any day.
Waiting for me, on that special shore,
Dreaming now so deep, forevermore.

Outro - guitar fade
