Jack's Joyful Leap

A Tribute Song

Intro - ukulele, light percussion

Verse 1

Remembering when you first arrived, so small and quick and keen,
A tiny shadow, full of life, the best I'd ever seen.
My little man, a miniature friend, with paws so light and neat,
A pincer's spirit, bold and bright, from tiny head to feet.

Chorus

Oh, Jack, my dear, for thirteen years, you filled my days with light,
A joyful spirit, clear and true, you made everything feel right.
With every wag, a happy beat, a love that knew no end,
My little man, my dearest boy, my loyal, faithful friend.

Verse 2

You always tried so hard to please, with focused, loving eyes,
Each tiny effort, big and grand, a wonderful surprise.
A tilt of head, a happy bark, a quick and clever turn,
So eager just to make me smile, a lesson we could learn.

Chorus

Oh, Jack, my dear, for thirteen years, you filled my days with light,
A joyful spirit, clear and true, you made everything feel right.
With every wag, a happy beat, a love that knew no end,
My little man, my dearest boy, my loyal, faithful friend.

Verse 3

A tiny bark, a joyful leap, when treats were coming near,
Or chasing toys with boundless glee, banishing every fear.
You'd spin and dance with happy feet, a whirlwind in the room,

Dispelling shadows, chasing gloom, with every cheerful bloom.

Chorus

Oh, Jack, my dear, for thirteen years, you filled my days with light,
A joyful spirit, clear and true, you made everything feel right.
With every wag, a happy beat, a love that knew no end,
My little man, my dearest boy, my loyal, faithful friend.

Verse 4

We shared our quiet mornings bright, and evening walks so free,
Your eager steps beside my own, meant everything to me.
A cozy nap upon my lap, a gentle, trusting gaze,
Just being near, through every year, in countless loving ways.

Chorus

Oh, Jack, my dear, for thirteen years, you filled my days with light,
A joyful spirit, clear and true, you made everything feel right.
With every wag, a happy beat, a love that knew no end,
My little man, my dearest boy, my loyal, faithful friend.

Verse 5

Your little paws upon the floor, a soft and happy sound,
You followed me from room to room, the best dog to be found.
A wagging tail, a happy sigh, contented by my side,
My special boy, my constant joy, my miniature pride.

Bridge

And now I whisper to the wind, my heart still full of glee,
I love you, my little man, Jack, for all you meant to me.
A tiny hero, brave and kind, your memory shines so clear,
And banishes all doubt and fear.

Ukulele Solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Jack, my dear, for thirteen years, you filled my days with light,
A joyful spirit, clear and true, you made everything feel right.
With every wag, a happy beat, a love that knew no end,
My little man, my dearest boy, my loyal, faithful friend.

Outro

Now running free, beyond the sky, through hoops and tunnels bright,
Over the jumps, with boundless joy, bathed in an endless light.

Performing tricks with joyful grace, for all the angels near,
My little man, forever young, I feel your spirit here.

Outro - ukulele fade
