Mac's Soulful Whisper

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

The first sound I recall, soft and clear,
Was the click of your nails, drawing near.
You'd trot across the floor, a tiny white sprite,
And look at me with eyes so bright.
A Westie's heart, so true and deep,
Secrets only you could keep.
You saw right through, past every guise,
A knowing wisdom in your eyes.

Chorus

Oh Mac, my dear friend, through all these years,
Sixteen seasons, through laughter and tears.
You were a beacon, steady and true,
My heart will always remember you.

Verse 2

The quiet evenings, settling down slow,
Were moments of comfort, a gentle glow.
Curled up beside me, a soft, warm weight,
You'd gaze outside, or at the fire grate.
No words were needed, just your presence near,
Banishing every doubt and fear.
A loyal companion, steadfast and bold,
A story of love, more precious than gold.

Chorus

Oh Mac, my dear friend, through all these years,
Sixteen seasons, through laughter and tears.

Mac's Soulful Whisper (continued)

You were a beacon, steady and true,
My heart will always remember you.

Bridge

I always loved you with my whole heart, so true,
There was nothing I wouldn't do for you.
If love could have kept you, day by day,
You'd have lived forever, never gone away.

Guitar Solo

Final Chorus

Oh Mac, my dear friend, through all these years,
Sixteen seasons, through laughter and tears.
You were a beacon, steady and true,
My heart will always remember you.

Outro

Now you're waiting, beyond the golden ray,
At the gates of heaven, come what may.
Running freely, on fields of light,
Until we meet again, in morning's bright.

Outro - acoustic guitar fade
