Makoto's Gentle Dream

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, cello

Verse 1

My sweet Makoto, a bobtail cat so grand,
With playful spirit, a purring friend at hand.
I remember the first time, your soft tongue you'd extend,
A gentle lick, a love that would never end.
You'd stick your tiny tongue out, a quirky, sweet display,
Chasing shadows, brightening every day.
A quiet presence, yet full of joyful grace,
A precious memory time cannot erase.

Chorus

Oh Kody, my Kody, my heart still holds you near,
For fourteen precious years, you banished every fear.
A soft embrace, a purr so warm and deep,
While in my loving memory, your sweet soul will sleep.

Verse 2

We'd go for walks, a grand adventure new,
In your little stroller or on leash with you.
Exploring the wide world, beneath the sky so blue,
Every moment shared, felt wonderfully true.
I miss the cat shows, the costumes we would choose,
Tiny outfits that always brought good news.
Your regal posture, a star in every light,
You filled my world with wonder, shining ever so bright.

Chorus

Oh Kody, my Kody, my heart still holds you near,
For fourteen precious years, you banished every fear.

A soft embrace, a purr so warm and deep,
While in my loving memory, your sweet soul will sleep.

Bridge

I love you, my Kody, and always, always will,
Your paw print on my heart, forever standing still.
Miss dressing you up, for every lovely show,
You'll always be forever in my heart, you know.

Instrumental - piano, glockenspiel

Final Chorus

Oh Kody, my Kody, my heart still holds you near,
For fourteen precious years, you banished every fear.
A soft embrace, a purr so warm and deep,
While in my loving memory, your sweet soul will sleep.

Outro - cello fade

Now running free in fields, of endless green and wide,
Alongside other pets, with joy deep inside.
No more pain, sweet Kody, just endless happy play,
My cherished Makoto, you brighten every day.

Forever in our hearts
