Gitmo's Golden Shadow

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, ukulele

Verse 1

A golden fur of pure delight,
You woke me with a gentle plight.
A wet nose kiss, a morning grace,
A loving start to every day's pace.
At bedtime, soft and sweet and true,
Another kiss, "Goodnight to you."
My fluffy friend, my loyal soul,
You made my weary spirit whole.

Chorus

Oh, Gitmo, my heart still sighs,
When I recall your gentle eyes.
Thirteen years, a cherished span,
The bestest boy, my furry man.
A celebration of the love we found,
Forever grateful, on hallowed ground.

Verse 2

Every moment felt so grand,
Walking always, hand in paw, across the land.
My constant shadow, close behind,
The truest friend I'd ever find.
You'd settle in your cozy bed,
Then look to see I was settled in mine, ahead.
A watchful gaze, so sweet and deep,
While all the world was fast asleep.

Chorus

Gitmo's Golden Shadow (continued)

Oh, Gitmo, my heart still sighs,
When I recall your gentle eyes.
Thirteen years, a cherished span,
The bestest boy, my furry man.
A celebration of the love we found,
Forever grateful, on hallowed ground.

Bridge

And though you're gone, your spirit bright,
Fills every corner with your light.
My final whisper, soft and clear,
"I love you to the moon and back, my dear."

Ukulele Solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Gitmo, my heart still sighs,
When I recall your gentle eyes.
Thirteen years, a cherished span,
The bestest boy, my furry man.
A celebration of the love we found,
Forever grateful, on hallowed ground.

Outro

Now resting, free from every pain,
No clouds can touch you with their rain.
I see you running, strong and free,
A golden shadow, just for me.

Outro - acoustic guitar fade
