Charlotte Bean's Gentle Dream

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, nylon guitar

Verse 1

A tiny shadow, always near,
You chased away every fear.
A big dog's spirit, strong and true,
In a little body, through and through.
If I stepped away, just for a while,
You'd scratch the door with a knowing smile.
My bed felt empty, so big and wide,
Until you curled up by my side.

Chorus

Oh, Charlotte Bean, my precious friend,
For eleven years, a love without end.
My heart still holds you, close and deep,
A gentle promise, I will keep.

Verse 2

The purest joy, a welcome sight,
When I came home in fading light.
Your little body, shaking sweet,
A happy dance upon your feet.
Then cookie time, a special treat,
Your favorite moment, oh so complete.
A wagging tail, a hopeful stare,
A silent language we would share.

Chorus

Oh, Charlotte Bean, my precious friend,
For eleven years, a love without end.

Charlotte Bean's Gentle Dream (continued)

My heart still holds you, close and deep,
A gentle promise, I will keep.

Bridge

Charlotte, I miss you more each day,
My love for you will never fade away.
I hope you feel it, pure and true,
I did all I could, my sweet, for you.
I couldn't bear to see you ache,
It was for your peace, for goodness sake.

Instrumental - cello, piano

Final Chorus

Oh, Charlotte Bean, my precious friend,
For eleven years, a love without end.
My heart still holds you, close and deep,
A gentle promise, I will keep.

Outro

Now you run free, joyful and light,
With Bogey and Rupert, bathed in pure light.
No pain, no sorrow, just endless play,
Dreaming sweet dreams till a brand new day.

Outro - piano fade
