Carter's Happy Greeting

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

I remember how you'd watch the road, a patient, furry friend,
Staring out the window, waiting for the day to end.
A chocolate coat, a loyal heart, a gentle soul so true,
With a stuffy in your mouth, you'd rush to meet me too.

Chorus

Oh, Carter, my sweet boy, your memory shines so bright,
Seven fun-filled years we shared, a beautiful, guiding light.
Though our time was far too short, your love still lingers near,
Whispering softly in my heart, banishing every fear.

Verse 2

Coming home each evening, to a happy, eager sound,
An excited boy who just wanted to play around.
You'd greet me at the doorway, with a wagging, happy tail,
Making every moment count, without fail.

Chorus

Oh, Carter, my sweet boy, your memory shines so bright,
Seven fun-filled years we shared, a beautiful, guiding light.
Though our time was far too short, your love still lingers near,
Whispering softly in my heart, banishing every fear.

Verse 3

Every morning, that rubber chicken would squawk a happy sound,
And you'd join in with your own howl, the sweetest I ever found.
In the Jeep with your head out, ears flapping in the breeze,

Carter's Happy Greeting (continued)

Exploring all those wonderful smells, putting my heart at ease.

Bridge

Thank you for being so amazing, a gift from up above,
Every single moment filled with such devoted love.
We will see you again one day, when our journey finds its close,
Until then, peace within your gentle soul, where sweet joy flows.

Instrumental - banjo, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh, Carter, my sweet boy, your memory shines so bright,
Seven fun-filled years we shared, a beautiful, guiding light.
Though our time was far too short, your love still lingers near,
Whispering softly in my heart, banishing every fear.

Outro - guitar fade

Now you're pain-free and healthy, running wild and free,
Jumping off the docks and swimming, all day long you'll be.
Playing with your brothers, Mousse and Charlie and Hunter too,
Resting easy, my dear boy, we'll always think of you.

Forever in our hearts
