Seesmic's Woodland Trail

A Tribute Song

Intro

Acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

The first time that we met, beneath the sun's warm glow,
A loyal German Shepherd, you were eager then to grow.
We walked the winding woodland paths, your nose to every scent,
A bond of pure devotion, on every journey bent.
You trotted always just ahead, then waited for my call,
A guardian in the forest, standing strong and tall.
Those memories are etched so deep, a picture in my mind,
The finest friend a soul could wish, the truest you could find.

Chorus

Oh, Seesmic, my sweet boy, for fifteen precious years,
You filled my world with laughter, calming all my fears.
A paw print on my heart, a love that won't depart,
You played a vital, loving, irreplaceable part.

Verse 2

Remember journeys on the road, the RV rolling free?
Your head out of the window, smiling back at me.
The wind blew through your silky fur, a joyful, happy sight,
Exploring every horizon, bathed in golden light.
You loved the wide-open spaces, and every brand new view,
A tireless, brave adventurer, through and through.
Your steady gaze, a comfort deep, no matter where we'd roam,
Making every moment feel like coming home.

Chorus

Oh, Seesmic, my sweet boy, for fifteen precious years,
You filled my world with laughter, calming all my fears.
A paw print on my heart, a love that won't depart,
You played a vital, loving, irreplaceable part.

Verse 3

We chased the sun from distant North, where Alaska held its sway,
My bucket list fulfilled at seventy, in a very special way.
That summer spent in Seward, beneath the skies so wide,
With you, my loyal German Shepherd, always by my side.
From icy peaks to Florida's warmth, we journeyed far and free,
Our RV tales shared on the screen, for all the world to see.
Each sunrise found a brand new path, adventure in your eyes,
My constant friend through changing lands, beneath all kinds of skies.

Bridge

Now silence sits where your soft steps once fell,
A quietness that rings a solemn bell.
But in my heart, your spirit's ever near,
My final whisper, darling, "Love you my sweet boy!" can you hear?

Instrumental

Acoustic guitar solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Seesmic, my sweet boy, for fifteen precious years,
You filled my world with laughter, calming all my fears.
A paw print on my heart, a love that won't depart,
You played a vital, loving, irreplaceable part.

Outro

I know you're watching from beyond, with grace and gentle eyes,
Running free beneath the vast and open skies.
Rest easy now, my dearest friend, your journey's done,
Forever cherished, my sweet boy, beneath the setting sun.
