Ferrie's Morning Kiss

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, pads

Verse 1

The click of the key, a familiar sound,
A joyful bark, you'd always be found.
Your tail would wag, a happy blur,
My sweet Labrador, my heart's pure cure.
No matter the day, no matter the stress,
Your bright eyes met mine, a soft caress.
You'd greet me at the door with a happy sigh,
My Ferrie, my love, beneath the blue sky.

Chorus

Oh, Ferrie, Ferrie, my faithful friend,
Ten wonderful years, right to the end.
Your gentle spirit, a comforting grace,
A warmth that time can never erase.

Verse 2

The sun would peek through the window pane,
You'd nudge my hand, banishing all pain.
A gentle lick, a morning's sweet start,
A tender kiss, straight from your heart.
Every sunrise, a cherished delight,
Your warm presence made everything right.
Those quiet moments, a loving sign,
My sweet companion, truly divine.

Chorus

Oh, Ferrie, Ferrie, my faithful friend,
Ten wonderful years, right to the end.

Your gentle spirit, a comforting grace,
A warmth that time can never erase.

Bridge

Milo and Hobbe will watch over you now,
Just be happy, make a joyful bow.
Run free, my darling, until that day,
When we're reunited, come what may.

Instrumental - cello, synth bells

Final Chorus

Oh, Ferrie, Ferrie, my faithful friend,
Ten wonderful years, right to the end.
Your gentle spirit, a comforting grace,
A warmth that time can never erase.

Outro

Now you run free in the tall green grass,
With friends by your side, all pain has passed.
Swim in the lake, so clear and deep,
While quiet dreams, my heart will keep.
Just be free, my love, forever more,
Until we meet again on that peaceful shore.

Outro - piano fade
