Gracie's Gentle Bell

A Tribute Song

Intro - gentle piano, plucked harp

Verse 1

The day we met, a tiny blur, a little, soft, dilute tortie cat,
I felt your wet nose on my hand, a moment I'll never forget that.
A gentle chime, your collar bell, a melody so sweet and low,
A quiet promise, softly made, of love that would forever grow.

Chorus

Oh, Gracie, my dear, through sixteen years, you filled my life with joy and light,
My sweet companion, always near, a comforting and gentle sight.
Your purrs, a balm for every fear, you made my darkest moments bright,
Oh, Gracie, my dear, through sixteen years, you stayed right by my side, day and night.

Verse 2

At bedtime's call, you'd snuggle close, a soft, warm weight upon my chest,
Those quiet cuddles, soft and deep, the sweetest moments, truly blessed.
And every time I'd come back home, your greeting waiting at the door,
A happy purr, a gentle rub, a love that I will miss so more.

Chorus

Oh, Gracie, my dear, through sixteen years, you filled my life with joy and light,
My sweet companion, always near, a comforting and gentle sight.
Your purrs, a balm for every fear, you made my darkest moments bright,
Oh, Gracie, my dear, through sixteen years, you stayed right by my side, day and night.

Bridge

I loved you so, my little friend, thank you for all you gave to me,
Your gentle love, your loyal heart, my hope is I made you happy, see.
No finer joy, no purer bond, you were truly meant to be.

My sweet companion, always near, a comforting and gentle sight.

Outro

Now you walk soft through endless grass, where gentle birds begin to sing,
Watching squirrels, swift and free, a peaceful joy your spirit brings.
Rest easy now, my dearest one, beneath the sky's wide, endless wing.
