Noddy's Open Sky

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, strings

Verse 1

I remember the first time I saw you there,
A flash of color, light in the air.
You'd jump through the branches, swift and so bold,
A story of friendship about to unfold.
Your little face reaching, a moment so true,
My heart understood, right there with you.
A precious head tilted, a curious gleam,
Living within a beautiful dream.

Chorus

Oh, Noddy, sweet Noddy, though six months flew fast,
The joy that you brought, forever will last.
A vibrant rainbow, a spirit so bright,
You filled every moment with pure, feathered light.

Verse 2

At feeding time, a treat I would bring,
Lorikeet mix, and fruit you would sing.
Sweet grapes and a bar, a feast for your taste,
No morsel of joy ever went to waste.
You'd settle so gently, upon my warm chest,
Or perch on my shoulder, finding your rest.
Sometimes on my head, a crown you would be,
Such a small, loving friend, so close to me.

Chorus

Oh, Noddy, sweet Noddy, though six months flew fast,
The joy that you brought, forever will last.

A vibrant rainbow, a spirit so bright,
You filled every moment with pure, feathered light.

Bridge

Fly free, my dear friend, your wings now take flight,
Soaring beyond, into endless light.
I'm grateful for moments, you filled up my days,
Much loved and missed, in so many ways.

Instrumental - strings, flute

Final Chorus

Oh, Noddy, sweet Noddy, though six months flew fast,
The joy that you brought, forever will last.
A vibrant rainbow, a spirit so bright,
You filled every moment with pure, feathered light.

Outro

Now you can fly, on currents above,
Soaring with angels, surrounded by love.
No longer grounded, your spirit takes wing,
A beautiful song the heavens now sing.

Outro - harp fade
