Sampson's Gentle Nudge

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, ukulele

Verse 1

Your gentle giant heart, a loving soul so deep,
Eleven years of memories, secrets we would keep.
My first remembrance of you, a morning, soft and low,
Your gentle nose would nudge me, a loving way to know.
It was your way to wake me, a signal clear and true,
My Great Dane, sweet Sampson, my morning started new.
A big paw on the bed, a rumble deep and warm,
Protecting me from troubles, sheltering from any storm.

Chorus

Oh, Sampson, my dear Sampson, for eleven years you stayed,
A loving heart, a loyal friend, a bond that never swayed.
Your spirit bright, a joyful light, forever in my mind,
The best companion, one of a kind.

Verse 2

Five AM, the quiet dark, before the sun would peek,
Your soft fur pressed against me, the comfort that I seek.
A gentle nudge, a sleepy sigh, to start the brand new day,
My faithful friend, in your own way, you'd chase the blues away.
We played our game, the yellow dot, a chase since you were small,
I'd call out 'Dot!' and you would run, responding to my call.
A playful spirit, always keen, a happy, loving friend,
Our days together felt like joy, that would never seem to end.

Chorus

Oh, Sampson, my dear Sampson, for eleven years you stayed,
A loving heart, a loyal friend, a bond that never swayed.

Sampson's Gentle Nudge (continued)

Your spirit bright, a joyful light, forever in my mind,
The best companion, one of a kind.

Bridge

I whispered "I love you," as tears began to fall,
"We will meet again someday," I gave my silent call.
Oh, Sampson, my dear Sampson, you left a paw print deep,
A Great Dane's love, a promise I will keep.

Instrumental - ukulele, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh, Sampson, my dear Sampson, for eleven years you stayed,
A loving heart, a loyal friend, a bond that never swayed.
Your spirit bright, a joyful light, forever in my mind,
The best companion, one of a kind.

Outro

Now you're free, my Sampson, with friends you knew so well,
Doing zoomies in the sunshine, where happy spirits dwell.
A peaceful sleep, a joyful run, beneath an endless sky,
My cherished boy, it's not goodbye.
