===Maggie, My Maggie===

Orchestral Ballad, Folk-Inspired, Emotional, Grand, Tender, Sweeping strings, Piano, Gentle acoustic guitar, Harp, Warm, emotive female vocals, 70-80 BPM

Intro - piano, strings

Verse 1

From the moment you bounded, a blur of pure glee,
Running in and out of your bright, blue pool, wild and free.
A mini Aussie spirit, so vibrant and keen,
The happiest vision, a beautiful scene.
Your playful splashing, a joyous sound,
The best little friend that I ever found.
With eyes full of mischief, a wagging tail,
Our love story started, an enchanting tale.

Chorus

Oh, Maggie, my Maggie, for thirteen cherished years,
You filled every moment, calming all my fears.
A paw print forever etched deep in my soul,
Making my broken heart wonderfully whole.

Verse 2

As twilight descended, and day turned to night,
You'd curl on my lap, a comforting light.
The weight of your body, so warm and so dear,
Whispering solace and banishing fear.
Those quiet evenings, a sacred embrace,
A silent connection, in time and in space.
Your gentle breathing, a peaceful soft hum,
A love so profound, a place I'd become.

Chorus

Oh, Maggie, my Maggie, for thirteen cherished years,
You filled every moment, calming all my fears.
A paw print forever etched deep in my soul,
Making my broken heart wonderfully whole.

Verse 3

Your watchful gaze, so bright and so knowing,
A quiet wisdom, constantly flowing.
You'd tilt your head slightly, a question implied,
With every emotion, you'd stand by my side.
A playful paw reaching, a tender soft nudge,
Dispelling all worries, holding no grudge.
My faithful confidante, gentle and true,
Each day felt complete, simply having you.

Verse 4

Your little soft barks, a greeting so sweet,
Patrolling the house with your tiny quick feet.
Each morning a wonder, each evening a peace,
A love that grew stronger, that never would cease.
You taught me of patience, of joy in the small,
Responding with wisdom to life's every call.
A spirit so curious, gentle and keen,
The brightest companion I ever had seen.

Verse 5

Through sun-dappled mornings and soft afternoon light,
You'd follow my footsteps, a comforting sight.
A shadow of comfort, so loyal and true,
My constant companion, in all that I'd do.
Your quiet devotion, a love pure and deep,
While secrets and worries, I'd silently keep.
You understood feelings, without spoken word,
The most gentle spirit, I ever observed.

Bridge

Though silence now echoes, where your footsteps once fell,
A love like ours conquers, casting its spell.
My heart whispers softly, a truth I still keep,
"I love you and miss you every day," silent and deep.

Instrumental - strings, harp

Final Chorus

Oh, Maggie, my Maggie, for thirteen cherished years,
You filled every moment, calming all my fears.
A paw print forever etched deep in my soul,
Making my broken heart wonderfully whole.

Outro

Now running in fields, where the sun always streams,
Chasing that ball through your heavenly dreams.
Forever you're free, in soft emerald grass,
A beautiful spirit, that always will last.

Outro - strings fade
