Bruce's Gentle Embrace

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, synth pad

Verse 1

In the front yard, where my green plants grew,
A sleek black shadow, I'd often see you.
You'd watch me water with eyes so bright,
Then rub against my legs with pure delight.
A Bombay beauty, so gentle and keen,
The sweetest companion I had ever seen.
Your quiet presence, a comforting grace,
A love that truly lit up this place.

Chorus

Oh, Bruce, my sweet friend, a love so true,
For a year and a half, my heart belonged to you.
Your gentle purr, a calming sound,
The best companion I had ever found.

Verse 2

The nights we spent, beneath the moon's soft glow,
You'd venture out, where wild breezes blow.
But no matter how far your journey took,
You'd meet me outside, with a knowing look.
A silent promise, we both understood,
Returning always, just as you should.
Those quiet moments, the best they could be,
You always came back, darling Bruce, to me.

Chorus

Oh, Bruce, my sweet friend, a love so true,
For a year and a half, my heart belonged to you.

Bruce's Gentle Embrace (continued)

Your gentle purr, a calming sound,
The best companion I had ever found.

Bridge

My Brucey Bruce, don't be scared, I whisper low,
You held on for me, letting your best love show.
You came home to me, for one last tender sight,
"Thank you for making sure my bad days never won," you made them bright.

Instrumental - piano, cello

Final Chorus

Oh, Bruce, my sweet friend, a love so true,
For a year and a half, my heart belonged to you.
Your gentle purr, a calming sound,
The best companion I had ever found.

Outro

Now you're taking your long nap, in your new condo's peace,
Watching the birds from the window, finding sweet release.
Rest easy now, my beautiful black cat,
Forever cherished, wherever you are at.

Outro - piano fade
