Pheebee's Morning Light

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, acoustic guitar

Verse 1

A tiny shadow, brave and true,
Slept beneath the covers with you.
My little Yorkie, soft and deep,
While the quiet world was fast asleep.
You guarded dreams throughout the night,
A comforting, soft, furry light.
So small, yet mighty in your way,
Chasing all my fears away.

Chorus

Oh, Pheebee, my sweet, devoted friend,
Ten precious years, right to the end.
Your love a comfort, soft and low,
A gentle light, forever glow.

Verse 2

Each morning brought a brand new start,
A tiny greeting from your heart.
With sleepy stretch and happy sigh,
A loving gaze within your eye.
You'd wake me softly, with a paw,
Breaking every lonely law.
Just happy moments, pure and bright,
Bathing every day in light.

Chorus

Oh, Pheebee, my sweet, devoted friend,
Ten precious years, right to the end.

Pheebee's Morning Light (continued)

Your love a comfort, soft and low,
A gentle light, forever glow.

Bridge

I whisper now, a heavy plea,
I'm so sorry that I let you down, you see.
A burden carried, now released,
Your gentle spirit, found its peace.

Instrumental - cello, piano

Final Chorus

Oh, Pheebee, my sweet, devoted friend,
Ten precious years, right to the end.
Your love a comfort, soft and low,
A gentle light, forever glow.

Outro

Now you're young again, so free and bright,
Running through fields, bathed in golden light.
No more pain, no weary stride,
Just endless joy, where dreams reside.

Outro - piano fade
