Simon's Bouncy Trails

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

Five years ago, a brand new start,
You bounced right into my lonely heart.
A schnoodle white, with joyful glee,
You made the whole world laugh with me.
Loved every dog, every face you'd see,
So full of life, wild and free.
Your happy energy, a constant light,
Turning every dark day bright.

Chorus

Oh, Simon, my sweet little man,
Five wonderful years, part of the plan.
You taught me how to truly live,
With all the love you had to give.

Verse 2

When twilight fell and day was done,
Our snuggling started, second to none.
You'd cuddle close, a sleepy sigh,
Beneath the moon, as hours flew by.
Warm beside me, safe in our bed,
Chasing the quiet thoughts in my head.
Every night, a tender embrace,
A loving smile upon my face.

Chorus

Oh, Simon, my sweet little man,
Five wonderful years, part of the plan.

Simon's Bouncy Trails (continued)

You taught me how to truly live,
With all the love you had to give.

Bridge

Thank you for rescuing my soul,
From sadness and a lonely hole.
Love you, my little man, I still impart,
Forever etched within my heart.

Acoustic guitar solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Simon, my sweet little man,
Five wonderful years, part of the plan.
You taught me how to truly live,
With all the love you had to give.

Outro

Now you're walking trails, a happy sight,
With bouncy steps and pure delight.
Ears a-flopping, exploring new land,
Greeting friends, nose sniffs in hand.
Peaceful slumber, soft and deep,
Your memory is mine to keep.

Outro - guitar fade
