Daisy's Endless Chase

A Tribute Song

[Intro] - acoustic guitar, light drums

Verse 1

A flash of black and white, a blur of happy feet,
Doing laps of front trees, a joyous, lively feat.
When the postie came each morning, you'd begin your playful race,
With a bark and a bound, a smile upon your face.
Then by the shed door standing, a loyal, watchful guard,
While I worked away inside, you'd never stray far.
A faithful Border Collie, always by my side,
With so much love and laughter, nowhere left to hide.

Chorus

Oh, Daisy, our sweet girl, a light so pure and true,
Fourteen magnificent years, we shared them all with you.
Every memory a treasure, a bond that will not cease,
Now you're running free forever, finding endless peace.

Verse 2

The engine sound would signal, our return from far away,
You'd be there at the gate, excited in your way.
Wagging tail a frenzy, a happy, barking cry,
Just to greet us back home, beneath the open sky.
Your joyful spirit shining, in every leap and bound,
The sweetest little collie, the best we ever found.
A quirky, loving presence, filling every day,
You chased the gloom and shadows, always far away.

Chorus

Oh, Daisy, our sweet girl, a light so pure and true,
Fourteen magnificent years, we shared them all with you.
Every memory a treasure, a bond that will not cease,

Daisy's Endless Chase (continued)

Now you're running free forever, finding endless peace.

Bridge

I whispered then softly, "The pain will be over soon,"

"Go and run around the yard, beneath the sun and moon."

"And we will be together again soon, my dearest, precious friend,"

Our love story is endless, it will never truly end.

[Instrumental] - mandolin, piano

Final Chorus

Oh, Daisy, our sweet girl, a light so pure and true,
Fourteen magnificent years, we shared them all with you.

Every memory a treasure, a bond that will not cease,
Now you're running free forever, finding endless peace.

Outro

Now you're chasing the postie, up in the boundless sky,
With youthful joy and spirit, as the clouds drift gently by.

Free from pain and sorrow, just pure, joyful play,
Daisy, sweet Daisy, running through eternity's day.

[Outro] - guitar fade

Forever in our hearts
