Brody's Open Sky

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, mandolin

Verse 1

Alone beside a highway's drone,
A tiny cage, you felt unknown.
Just two months old, a Shepherd white,
We brought you home and made things right.
Our loving arms, a brand new start,
You quickly claimed a family heart.
From lonely road to warm embrace,
You found your joyful, rightful place.

Chorus

Oh, Brody, my sweet boy, it's true,
For three short years, our love just grew.
Now in the open sky, you roam,
Brody, you're finally home.

Verse 2

Every minute, every single day,
You chased our blues and fears away.
A wonderful spirit, pure and bright,
Filling our lives with endless light.
Your happy bark, your gentle paw,
The best companion we ever saw.
Through sun and rain, your loyal gaze,
A golden highlight to our days.

Chorus

Oh, Brody, my sweet boy, it's true,

For three short years, our love just grew.
Now in the open sky, you roam,
Brody, you're finally home.

Verse 3

A silent paw, a knowing glance,
You filled our lives with sweet romance.
Each morning sun, each passing moon,
Your happy spirit, a gentle tune.
Our house felt full, our hearts complete,
From playful chase to slumber sweet.
A loyal friend, steadfast and true,
Our gratitude will see us through.

Bridge

I'll always love you, this I vow,
So thankful we found you then and now.
We gave your heart its loving home,
No longer alone, you're free to roam.

Mandolin Solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Brody, my sweet boy, it's true,
For three short years, our love just grew.
Now in the open sky, you roam,
Brody, you're finally home.

Outro

Now running free with all your friends,
Where joy begins and never ends.
With your human dad, you reunite,
Bathed in heaven's golden light.
No cancer binds, no pain to bear,
Just endless fields, without a care.
I miss you more than words can say,
But hope you're happy, far away.

Outro - piano, guitar fade
