Niko's Gentle Lean

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, strings

Verse 1

A tiny heart, so full of grace,
A wagging tail, a joyful face.
Each time I walked through our front door,
Your happy greeting asked for more.
A little Yorkie, brave and bright,
Filling every day with light.
Your gentle presence, soft and true,
A loyal friend, in all we do.

Chorus

Oh, Niko, dear Niko, sixteen years went by,
Beneath the clear and endless sky.
You taught our hearts what love can be,
A precious part of family.
Though tears may fall, our love won't cease,
You're in our hearts, find perfect peace.

Verse 2

When morning came, the car would leave,
For our quiet time, my heart would weave.
After the drop-off, back I'd come,
We'd share the chair, just me and some.
You'd lean against me, soft and warm,
Safe from every coming storm.
A quiet comfort, deep and pure,
A bond that promised to endure.

Chorus

Niko's Gentle Lean (continued)

Oh, Niko, dear Niko, sixteen years went by,
Beneath the clear and endless sky.
You taught our hearts what love can be,
A precious part of family.
Though tears may fall, our love won't cease,
You're in our hearts, find perfect peace.

Bridge

No more pain, we wanted you to stay,
But your body just couldn't face the day.
Thank you for the love, joy, and happiness you gave,
Your loving spirit, our hearts will save.
Go play with Gio, run so free,
Till we meet again, we love and miss you, you see.

Instrumental - cello solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Niko, dear Niko, sixteen years went by,
Beneath the clear and endless sky.
You taught our hearts what love can be,
A precious part of family.
Though tears may fall, our love won't cease,
You're in our hearts, find perfect peace.

Outro

Now with your brother, Giovanni, you play,
Chasing dreams through a brighter day.
Run free, dear boys, across the green,
The sweetest reunion ever seen.
Come say hi once, in sun or moon,
Our hearts will cherish you, very soon.

Outro - strings fade
