Tilly's Quiet Comfort

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, pads

Verse 1

From the moment you arrived, a tiny, hungry cry,
A tuxedo flash of black and white beneath a watchful eye.
You'd beg for every morsel, a connoisseur of treats,
And demand a gentle petting, only on your own terms, sweet.
You never liked to be held, a spirit free and bold,
A quiet, graceful presence, a story to unfold.
Our little furry shadow, always close at hand,
The dearest, sweetest feline in all of the land.

Chorus

Oh, Tilly, our dear Tilly, how the moments fly,
Eleven years and eight months, beneath the endless sky.
A love so pure and steady, a bond that will remain,
We whisper your sweet name, and ease away the pain.

Verse 2

As evening softly settled, and the day began to cease,
You'd curl up close beside me, bringing silent peace.
Not needing any fussing, just knowing I was near,
A quiet, trusted comfort, dispelling every fear.
Then to the foot of my bed, you'd journey through the night,
A steady, sleeping presence, a comforting, warm light.
Your purrs a gentle rhythm, a melody so low,
A silent understanding, how deep our love did grow.

Chorus

Oh, Tilly, our dear Tilly, how the moments fly,
Eleven years and eight months, beneath the endless sky.

A love so pure and steady, a bond that will remain,
We whisper your sweet name, and ease away the pain.

Bridge

We wish you endless sunshine, and fields of green to roam,
And know that we love you always, you'll always be our home.
We hope you're still enjoying your favorite treats and play,
Remembered in our hearts, each and every day.

Instrumental - piano, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh, Tilly, our dear Tilly, how the moments fly,
Eleven years and eight months, beneath the endless sky.
A love so pure and steady, a bond that will remain,
We whisper your sweet name, and ease away the pain.

Outro

Now under your favorite bush, in the garden's gentle light,
Or watching birds with wisdom, a peaceful, lovely sight.
Perhaps you softly chat with them, in ways we understand,
Our sweet Tilly, forever loved, across the timeless sand.

Outro - piano fade
