Verse 1

The first time that you came to stay,
You curled up close and chased fears away.
In my arms you'd sleep each night,
A gentle purr, a pure delight.
Your fur so soft against my cheek,
A tiny comfort I would seek.
A Tonkinese with eyes so bright,
You filled my world with quiet light.

Chorus

Oh, Mia, my sweet Mia, true and dear,
For eighteen cherished, beautiful years.
You taught my heart what love could be,
A silent, soulful company.

Verse 2

We'd watch the screen, or turn a page,
You'd settle softly on my lap's warm stage.
A cozy cuddle, side by side,
With you, my heart felt open wide.
No need for words, just gentle grace,
A quiet joy upon your face.
In every moment, big or small,

Mia's Gentle Purr (continued)

You gave your gentle, loving all.

Chorus

Oh, Mia, my sweet Mia, true and dear,
For eighteen cherished, beautiful years.
You taught my heart what love could be,
A silent, soulful company.

Verse 3

Through quiet mornings, soft and deep,
Your loving watch you'd always keep.
Each gentle rub, a head held high,
A silent language, just you and I.
You understood my every mood,
A perfect solace, gentle, good.
In sunbeams stretched, or by the fire's gleam,
My precious Mia, a living dream.

Chorus

Oh, Mia, my sweet Mia, true and dear,
For eighteen cherished, beautiful years.
You taught my heart what love could be,
A silent, soulful company.

Bridge

I love you, Mia, I miss you so much still,
A quiet ache my heart can't fill.
Please watch over me from skies above,
My guardian angel, filled with love.

Instrumental - acoustic guitar solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Mia, my sweet Mia, true and dear,
For eighteen cherished, beautiful years.
You taught my heart what love could be,
A silent, soulful company.

Outro

Now in the sun, you softly dream,
Bathed in a warm and golden beam.
Your gentle spirit, ever free,
Always a part of me.
