Presh's Gentle Pace

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

We brought you home a puppy, just a tiny little soul
But soon a shadow fell, beyond my own control
Three months in kennels, while I fought against the tide
Then you came back to me, and stayed right by my side
An American bulldog's heart, so steadfast and so true
You knew my weakness then, and saw me through and through
On long and weary walks, you'd never race ahead
Always waiting patiently, by every step I tread

Chorus

Oh, Presh, my sweet Presh, for nine good years we shared
A bond of gentle strength, beyond all thought or care
You healed my spirit, when my body felt so frail
A loyal guardian, through every storm and gale

Verse 2

The day would draw to close, I'd turn the key and smile
Knowing you were waiting, for just a little while
As soon as door swung open, a joyful, wild release
You'd go completely crazy, bringing comfort and such peace
As if I'd been away, for more than just a day
Your happy, frantic dance, would chase the blues away
That pure, ecstatic welcome, a love so strong and deep
A precious, daily treasure, my grateful heart would keep

Chorus

Oh, Presh, my sweet Presh, for nine good years we shared
A bond of gentle strength, beyond all thought or care

You healed my spirit, when my body felt so frail
A loyal guardian, through every storm and gale

Bridge

And still a pain I carry, a whisper in the air
That when you left this world, I wasn't truly there
The gates were closed by sickness, no last touch for me
Oh, Presh, I'm truly sorry, I couldn't set you free

Instrumental - harmonica solo, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh, Presh, my sweet Presh, for nine good years we shared
A bond of gentle strength, beyond all thought or care
You healed my spirit, when my body felt so frail
A loyal guardian, through every storm and gale

Outro

Now my heart imagines, where you finally roam
Waiting at the gates of heaven, for me to come back home
A gentle, patient spirit, beneath a sky so bright
Sweet Presh, my faithful friend, bathed in endless light

Outro - acoustic guitar fade, harmonica

Forever in our hearts
