Butch's Quiet Devotion

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, synth pads

Verse 1

In tiny paws, a heart so true,
My first clear memory of you.
A quiet devotion, deep and bright,
A sparky spirit, full of light.
A little schnauzer, brave and keen,
The sweetest friend I'd ever seen.
Your tiny whiskers, a gentle grace,
A loving soul in every trace.

Chorus

Oh, Butch, my dear, for seventeen long years,
You chased away my every fear.
My faithful shadow, small and bold,
A story in your eyes, untold.

Verse 2

Through sunlit days, you'd stay so near,
All day Butch, holding me so dear.
Just hanging around, a constant friend,
A bond of love that would not end.
Always on your paws, a gentle beat,
Following close, your tiny feet.
A quiet presence, pure and true,
My precious moments spent with you.

Chorus

Oh, Butch, my dear, for seventeen long years,
You chased away my every fear.

My faithful shadow, small and bold,
A story in your eyes, untold.

Bridge

A final whisper, soft and low,
The hardest words I had to know.
"We love you, Butch, you're safe and free,
Mamam is here to take good care of you," for eternity.

Instrumental - piano, strings

Final Chorus

Oh, Butch, my dear, for seventeen long years,
You chased away my every fear.
My faithful shadow, small and bold,
A story in your eyes, untold.

Outro

Now content and free, beyond the pain,
On velvet clouds, you run again.
Still on your paws, a peaceful sleep,
Forever in my heart, you'll keep.

Outro - piano fade
