Sophie's Morning Light

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, ukulele

Verse 1

The kitchen light begins to gleam,
A sweet small face, a lovely dream.
With bell pepper and eggs, our day would start,
You filled our home, and touched our heart.
Our sweet little girl, so full of grace,
A joyful spirit in every space.
You wagged your tail, a happy sound,
The dearest friend we ever found.

Chorus

Oh, Sophie, our Sophie, bright and true,
Eight beautiful years we spent with you.
Your paw prints left upon our soul,
Making our broken spirits whole.
We celebrate the love you gave,
A bond that time can never waive.

Verse 2

Each morning brought a special cheer,
To simply have you always near.
Your way of snuggling, soft and deep,
Just laying close while we would sleep.
No grand display, just quiet grace,
A loving comfort in your place.
You taught us calm, you taught us peace,
A gentle love that brought release.

Chorus

Sophie's Morning Light (continued)

Oh, Sophie, our Sophie, bright and true,
Eight beautiful years we spent with you.
Your paw prints left upon our soul,
Making our broken spirits whole.
We celebrate the love you gave,
A bond that time can never waive.

Bridge

Though whispers now are soft and low,
"I love you," a gentle, final glow.
That sacred message, pure and deep,
A promise that our hearts will keep.

Instrumental - ukulele solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Sophie, our Sophie, bright and true,
Eight beautiful years we spent with you.
Your paw prints left upon our soul,
Making our broken spirits whole.
We celebrate the love you gave,
A bond that time can never waive.

Outro

Now on our bed, where dreams take flight,
You're laying next to us, in softest light.
Forever peaceful, always near,
Chasing away every fear.

Outro - synth pads fade
