Bailey's Shelter Heart

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

That very first night you came home, a tiny little sigh,
Curled up beside me, beneath a gentle sky.
Sleeping with me under the covers, so warm and safe you slept,
A silent, tender promise, a secret we both kept.

Chorus

Oh, Bailey, sweet Bailey, a love so pure and true,
Twelve beautiful years, I spent them all with you.
My heart still holds your paw print, a bond that won't erase,
You filled my world with sunshine, and joy in every space.

Verse 2

That day at the shelter, I saw you standing there,
A quiet, hopeful spirit, with love beyond compare.
My hand reached out to claim you, to bring you to your home,
From that moment onward, I knew I'd never roam.

Chorus

Oh, Bailey, sweet Bailey, a love so pure and true,
Twelve beautiful years, I spent them all with you.
My heart still holds your paw print, a bond that won't erase,
You filled my world with sunshine, and joy in every space.

Bridge

Though silence fills the house now, where once your paws would tread,
The words I whispered softly, echo in my head.
"I love you so much, Bailey, and I miss you forever and always,"

Bailey's Shelter Heart (continued)

A love that transcends moments, through all our sunlit days.

Harmonica Solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Bailey, sweet Bailey, a love so pure and true,
Twelve beautiful years, I spent them all with you.
My heart still holds your paw print, a bond that won't erase,
You filled my world with sunshine, and joy in every space.

Outro

Now you're playing freely, on fields of endless green,
With Sammy by your side, the happiest I've seen.
Running through the heavens, no pain and no more fear,
Just peace and endless playtime, until I meet you there.

Outro - acoustic guitar fade
