Ranger, My Brave and Handsome Friend

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

You came to me with eyes so keen,
A loyalty I'd never seen.
You rescued me, it's plain to see,
A silent strength, just for me.
With soft alert ears, always bright,
You stayed Velcroed, morning, noon, and night.
Though life had dealt you heavy blows,
Your loving heart forever shows.

Chorus

Oh, Ranger, my brave and handsome friend,
Our journey found a sudden end.
Just half a year you walked with me,
A lifetime of love, wild and free.
Your spirit shines, a guiding star,
No matter where you are.

Verse 2

Always there, right by my side,
No place you'd rather run or hide.
Ready to love, ready to guard,
You played your faithful, loyal card.
That goofy smile, a joyful sight,
Your Yoda ears, filled with light.
A gentle soul, a warrior's heart,
You played a truly special part.

Chorus

Ranger, My Brave and Handsome Friend (continued)

Oh, Ranger, my brave and handsome friend,
Our journey found a sudden end.
Just half a year you walked with me,
A lifetime of love, wild and free.
Your spirit shines, a guiding star,
No matter where you are.

Bridge

I whispered low, as you drew near,
To calm my heart, to soothe my fear.
"I love you so much," I softly said,
"Did I tell you how handsome you are," I said.

Instrumental - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Final Chorus

Oh, Ranger, my brave and handsome friend,
Our journey found a sudden end.
Just half a year you walked with me,
A lifetime of love, wild and free.
Your spirit shines, a guiding star,
No matter where you are.

Outro - guitar fade

Now with your red ball, you play on high,
Beneath an endless, happy sky.
Your ears are perked, a joyful sound,
As you race towards me, without a bound.
With that funny smile, forever bright,
Running free in heaven's light.

Forever in our hearts
