Rayne's Welcome Home

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, strings

Verse 1

I remember the first time, your excited little sway,
A tiny Pekingese mix, you'd light up every day.
With a wiggle of your body, a soft and happy whine,
So glad that I was home again, a love truly divine.

Chorus

Oh, Rayne, sweet Rayne, my heart still knows your name,
Sixteen cherished years, you shone like a gentle flame.
A love so pure, a bond so deep and true,
Forever in my memories, I'll still be missing you.

Verse 2

On the couch, we'd share our secrets, a quiet, peaceful space,
When mom was out, just you and I, a smile upon your face.
In my room, you'd snuggle close, a warm and furry friend,
A quiet comfort always there, right until the end.

Chorus

Oh, Rayne, sweet Rayne, my heart still knows your name,
Sixteen cherished years, you shone like a gentle flame.
A love so pure, a bond so deep and true,
Forever in my memories, I'll still be missing you.

Bridge

My whispered words still echo, carried on the breeze,
"I love you, and you are a good girl," it sets my heart at ease.
A precious, loyal companion, through all the passing years,

You calmed my soul, you dried my tears.

Instrumental - strings, oboe

Final Chorus

Oh, Rayne, sweet Rayne, my heart still knows your name,
Sixteen cherished years, you shone like a gentle flame.

A love so pure, a bond so deep and true,
Forever in my memories, I'll still be missing you.

Outro - strings fade

Now you're running, playing freely, joyful and so bright,
Chasing endless sunshine, bathed in golden light.
Peaceful dreams, my good girl, rest now, soft and deep.
Your memory in my heart, I'll forever keep.

Forever in our hearts
