Max's Evening Star

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, mandolin

Verse 1

A little shadow at the door
Wagging tail, wanting more
A tiny bark, a happy sound
My Max, the best dog around.
Your long body, close to the ground
With every step, my heart you bound.
A gentle welcome, bright and true
My first memory, always of you.

Chorus

Oh Max pupper, my loyal friend
Sixteen years, right to the end
You filled my life with joy and light
My precious boy, morning and night.

Verse 2

When day would fade, and shadows grew
My favorite place was next to you.
We'd settle down, close and near
Watching the screen, banishing fear.
Your little head upon my lap
A peaceful, quiet, loving nap.
Those gentle moments, calm and deep
Secrets the evening loved to keep.

Chorus

Oh Max pupper, my loyal friend
Sixteen years, right to the end

Max's Evening Star (continued)

You filled my life with joy and light
My precious boy, morning and night.

Bridge

Though time may pass, and seasons turn
A love like ours will always burn.
My whisper soft, across the blue
"I will always love you."
"Say hi to everyone up there for me, my dear"
Your spirit close, banishing all fear.

Instrumental - mandolin, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh Max pupper, my loyal friend
Sixteen years, right to the end
You filled my life with joy and light
My precious boy, morning and night.

Outro

Now you're running free and bright
Playing with family, in heaven's light.
With happy barks and joyful leaps
While my heart remembers, and gently keeps.
A quiet sleep, a peaceful sigh
Beneath an endless, loving sky.

Outro - guitar fade
