Gypsy's Water Dance

A Tribute Song

Intro - grand piano, strings

Verse 1

The first time we met, a splash and a dive,
In the cool creek waters, you truly came alive.
A powerful Pitt Bull, with a spirit so free,
Retrieving those rocks, just for you and for me.
Your eyes full of fire, your coat sleek and brown,
The happiest swimmer in this whole little town.
No fear in your heart, just pure, boundless glee,
That moment, dear Gypsy, will always stay with me.

Chorus

Oh, Gypsy, my Gypsy, a light in my day,
For five precious years, you showed me the way.
Through sunshine and shadows, you stood by my side,
My faithful companion, my joy and my guide.

Verse 2

Each morning began with your calm, steady gaze,
Sipping coffee together in those quiet, warm hazes.
Your head on my lap, a comforting weight,
Just simple togetherness, never too late.
A gentle soul hidden beneath a strong form,
You weathered each challenge, you weathered each storm.
The peace that you brought, so constant and deep,
The promises cherished, the secrets we'd keep.

Chorus

Oh, Gypsy, my Gypsy, a light in my day,
For five precious years, you showed me the way.

Through sunshine and shadows, you stood by my side,
My faithful companion, my joy and my guide.

Bridge

Though silence now lingers where your paws used to tread,
Your love's gentle echo still fills up my head.
A final soft whisper, a truth I still hold,
"I love you, Gypsy," a story untold.

Instrumental - strings, piano

Final Chorus

Oh, Gypsy, my Gypsy, a light in my day,
For five precious years, you showed me the way.
Through sunshine and shadows, you stood by my side,
My faithful companion, my joy and my guide.

Outro

Now beyond the horizon, your spirit takes flight,
Playing and happy, bathed in pure golden light.
Running free, forever, in fields green and wide,
My beautiful Gypsy, forever inside.
