Rex, My Angel of God

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, strings

Verse 1

The day I first saw you, a picture I recall
On my bed by the window, answering my call
You watched as my car came, just passing by the door
My strong, watchful companion, I couldn't ask for more.
With eyes full of knowing, a spirit so keen
My loyal terrier heart, the best I'd ever seen.
You took your place beside me, right from the very start
A quiet promise whispered, etched deep within my heart.

Chorus

Oh, Rex, my sweet Rex, for six amazing years
You filled my life with laughter, chased away my fears.
A bond beyond comparing, a love so pure and true
Every moment with you, I cherish, me and you.

Verse 2

Each day when I'd return, a joyful sight to see
Your wiggling tail awaited, just there to welcome me.
A happy little dance, a greeting warm and bright
Then curled up on the couch, you'd share my evening light.
So smart and ever playful, you knew just what to do
Every snuggle, every bark, my whole world revolved around you.
You taught me endless patience, and unconditional grace
Leaving paw prints on my soul, in your own special place.

Chorus

Oh, Rex, my sweet Rex, for six amazing years
You filled my life with laughter, chased away my fears.

Rex, My Angel of God (continued)

A bond beyond comparing, a love so pure and true
Every moment with you, I cherish, me and you.

Bridge

I love you more than you could ever know, my dear
You were the perfect dog, banishing every fear.
So loyal, loving, playful, and incredibly smart
You'll forever hold the biggest piece of my heart.

Instrumental - strings, brass

Final Chorus

Oh, Rex, my sweet Rex, for six amazing years
You filled my life with laughter, chased away my fears.
A bond beyond comparing, a love so pure and true
Every moment with you, I cherish, me and you.

Outro

You're my Angel of God, now soaring free and high
Across the Rainbow Bridge, beneath a cloudless sky.
I know we'll meet again, when my own journey's through
Running in Heaven's fields, forever, me and you.

Outro - cello fade
