Cali's Morning Kisses

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, acoustic guitar

Verse 1

An Aussie spirit, bright and bold,
A story now to gently unfold.
My first sweet memory, I recall so clear,
You'd jump on the bed, chasing away all fear.
For cuddles and kisses, a loving start,
You quickly stole a piece of my heart.
A playful nudge, a happy sigh,
Beneath the morning's waking sky.

Chorus

Oh, Cali, my dear, it's hard to believe,
Six precious years we had to receive.
Your gentle presence, a comforting grace,
Forever etched in time and space.
You're in my dreams, my sunshine bright,
Guiding me through the longest night.

Verse 2

Each morning dawned, a special delight,
At half-past six, bathed in soft light.
With Dad and me, our routine would start,
Your lovely wet kisses, a work of art.
A wagging tail, a joyful sound,
The happiest greeting, ever found.
Through every sunrise, dark and grey,
You brightened the start of every day.

Chorus

Cali's Morning Kisses (continued)

Oh, Cali, my dear, it's hard to believe,
Six precious years we had to receive.
Your gentle presence, a comforting grace,
Forever etched in time and space.
You're in my dreams, my sunshine bright,
Guiding me through the longest night.

Verse 3

A loyal gaze, a knowing stare,
You filled our lives beyond compare.
A gentle shadow, always near,
Dispelling every doubt and fear.
Your quiet comfort, soft and deep,
While we were waking, or asleep.
Our hearts still feel your tender touch,
Beloved Cali, oh so much.

Bridge

Cali, I love you with all my heart so true,
You are such a pretty girl, hon, through and through.
I miss you every day, a silent plea,
And softly whisper, "I'll see you soon, my sweet."

Instrumental - piano, cello

Final Chorus

Oh, Cali, my dear, it's hard to believe,
Six precious years we had to receive.
Your gentle presence, a comforting grace,
Forever etched in time and space.
You're in my dreams, my sunshine bright,
Guiding me through the longest night.

Outro

Now running wild at Wagon Hill Farm,
Safe from every hurt and harm.
Or digging holes where tree trunks stand,
Across the green and peaceful land.
Then lying down, right by our side,
Where love and memories gently abide.

Outro - piano fade
