Mishto's Morning Song

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

My little Mishto, a Shorgie so keen,
With eyes to the heavens, a wonderful scene.
Your first memory etched, a bark to the blue,
At soaring high jets, or a bird passing through.

Chorus

Oh, Mishto, my sweet friend, for fifteen long years,
You filled every moment, wiped away tears.
Though silence now echoes where your paw prints once fell,
Your spirit and love, in my heart, they still dwell.

Verse 2

Each morning to barn, and each evening back home,
Your skyward bark echoed, no matter where we would roam.
Your hearing so sharp, a marvel to see,
That faint distant jet, was so clear just to thee.

Chorus

Oh, Mishto, my sweet friend, for fifteen long years,
You filled every moment, wiped away tears.
Though silence now echoes where your paw prints once fell,
Your spirit and love, in my heart, they still dwell.

Bridge

My final soft whisper, "My darling, I love you so,"
"Go tell all our others, the pups and the horses you know.
I miss them so dearly, until our paths cross once again,

In that bright distant future, beyond sorrow and pain."

Banjo Solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Mishto, my sweet friend, for fifteen long years,
You filled every moment, wiped away tears.
Though silence now echoes where your paw prints once fell,
Your spirit and love, in my heart, they still dwell.

Outro

Now in quiet moments, your presence I find,
A loyal companion, forever enshrined.
Still following my heart, in dreams soft and deep,
Across endless green fields, you peacefully sleep.

Forever in our hearts
