Oomie's Morning Sun

A Tribute Song

Oomie, My Sweet Companion===, ===Folk Acoustic, Campfire, Acoustic guitar, harmonica, upright bass, Warm, tender male vocal, Tempo: 80 BPM==

Intro - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

From the moment you came into my life's embrace,
You filled every corner with joy and grace.
My bestest friend, a spirit so bright and true,
Always knew just what my heart needed from you.

Chorus

Oh, Oomie, my sweet and precious friend,
Nine years of love that will never end.
You taught my heart how to truly soar,
And now I miss you more and more.

Verse 2

Nighttime was sacred, a favourite time of day,
When you'd climb in bed, in your special way.
Snuggled beneath the blanket, close to my side,
While my daily stories, in your soft ears, I'd confide.
You'd nudge my hand softly, a sweet, gentle plea,
For more loving pets, just for you and me.
Then morning would come, the alarm's first chime,
You'd lay on my neck, wanting just a bit more time.

Chorus

Oh, Oomie, my sweet and precious friend,
Nine years of love that will never end.
You taught my heart how to truly soar,
And now I miss you more and more.

Verse 3

You knew how to make me laugh with such sweet ease,
And kiss away my sadness, putting my heart at peace.
My soulmate through and through, in every single way,
Always waiting by the door at the close of my day.
Our bestest friend song, a secret just for us two,
A melody of love, pure and ever new.

Chorus

Oh, Oomie, my sweet and precious friend,
Nine years of love that will never end.
You taught my heart how to truly soar,
And now I miss you more and more.

Bridge

I remember the words I whispered with all my might,
"I love Oomie, yes I do, with all of my light.
I love Ooma Puppy to me, it's plain to see,
And Ooma Puppy loves only me, me, me."

Harmonica Solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Oomie, my sweet and precious friend,
Nine years of love that will never end.
You taught my heart how to truly soar,
And now I miss you more and more.

Outro

Now I picture you resting, bathed in the sun's warm ray,
Sleeping so peaceful, on the deck, all through the day.
My sweet Oomie, free and at peace,
May your beautiful spirit find endless release.
