Verse 1

The first light of morning, a blur in the air,
A tiny Maltepoo, beyond all compare.
You'd zoom through the hallway, a joyful sweet sight,
Your manners impeccable, always so bright.
A heart full of kindness, for everyone you met,
The sweetest companion, we'll never forget.
Your spirit was boundless, a loving decree,
A part of our family, wild and free.

Chorus

Oh, Allie, sweet Allie, my dear friend so true,
For sixteen bright years, my heart walked with you.
A celebration of life, a paw print so deep,
Your memory we cherish, secrets to keep.

Verse 2

Our walks were your favorite, a happy routine,
Exploring the pathways, a beautiful scene.
Then curled up beside me, a soft, gentle purr,
My loyal companion, my sweet little fur.
You'd find a warm sunbeam, a perfect soft spot,
Watching the squirrels, a mischievous plot.
Each day was a treasure, a joy to behold,

Allie's Morning Zoom (continued)

A story of friendship, more precious than gold.

Chorus

Oh, Allie, sweet Allie, my dear friend so true,
For sixteen bright years, my heart walked with you.
A celebration of life, a paw print so deep,
Your memory we cherish, secrets to keep.

Verse 3

The car window breezes, a smile on your face,
Enjoying the journey, at your happy pace.
You'd lean in for kisses, a sweet gentle plea,
And sense every sadness, and snuggle with me.
You'd stand at the window, a watchful keen eye,
Barking at neighbors, as they'd wander by.
Your joy was so simple, a touch and a word,
Our hands on your soft ears, the happiest heard.

Bridge

So chase all the squirrels, as far as you want to roam,
And zoom for forever, wherever you make your new home.
We'll cuddle together, I know that it's true,
Because all of God's puppies, go to heaven, dear you.

Instrumental - ukulele solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Allie, sweet Allie, my dear friend so true,
For sixteen bright years, my heart walked with you.
A celebration of life, a paw print so deep,
Your memory we cherish, secrets to keep.

Outro

Now resting in sunbeams, with squirrels still in sight,
Peaceful and happy, bathed in warm light.
My sweet little Allie, forever you'll be,
Running free, waiting there for me.

Outro - acoustic guitar fade

Forever in our hearts
