Big Pic's Lullaby

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, piano

Verse 1

With puppy dog eyes, so sweet and so deep,
A little pug's charm, secrets to keep.
You'd wiggle your tail, a joyful display,
For every new friend you met on the way.
My son called you "Big Pic," with love in his voice,
Our sweet little Pickles, our heart's happy choice.
You'd beg for a treat, with a hopeful soft gaze,
Bringing sunshine and laughter to all of our days.

Chorus

Oh Pickles, dear Pickles, for seven sweet years,
You chased away shadows and quieted fears.
A love so pure, a spirit so bright,
You filled up our world with joy and with light.

Verse 2

You'd curl up beside me, so warm and so near,
Whispering comfort, banishing fear.
The softest of snores, a lullaby sound,
The sweetest companion, always around.
In slumber you'd rest, a cozy small heap,
While gentle dreams danced in your slumbering sleep.

Chorus

Oh Pickles, dear Pickles, for seven sweet years,
You chased away shadows and quieted fears.
A love so pure, a spirit so bright,
You filled up our world with joy and with light.

Big Pic's Lullaby (continued)

Bridge

You will never be forgotten, dear friend of our heart,
Your memory cherished, right from the start.
We miss you so much, with each passing day,
And hope to see you again, on some far-off way.

Instrumental - ukulele, string pads

Final Chorus

Oh Pickles, dear Pickles, for seven sweet years,
You chased away shadows and quieted fears.
A love so pure, a spirit so bright,
You filled up our world with joy and with light.

Outro

Now on Mom's lap, in a heavenly place,
You're getting sweet love, and gentle embrace.
Sleeping in peace, in a soft, sunlit gleam,
Our beloved Pickles, a beautiful dream.

Outro - piano fade
