Clipper's Fields of Spring Hay

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, harmonica

Verse 1

I close my eyes and hear the sound, a memory I hold so dear,
The 'ting ting ting' of your bear bell, whispering softly in my ear.
Like old man's slippers, you would saunter, down the aisle, so slow and grand,
A gentle giant, my sweet Newfoundland, the best friend in the land.

Chorus

Oh, Clipper, my dear boy, twelve years flew by like a gentle breeze,
You taught me love, you brought me joy, you brought my heart to ease.
Though silence fills the empty space, your spirit still shines bright,
Your memory, a warm embrace, a never-ending light.

Verse 2

You'd hesitate to leave the farm, a soulful look within your eyes,
But oh, the joy to see the barn, beneath the wide and endless skies.
You'd jump into the van with glee, knowing home was just a ride away,
A loyal heart, wild and free, brightening every single day.

Chorus

Oh, Clipper, my dear boy, twelve years flew by like a gentle breeze,
You taught me love, you brought me joy, you brought my heart to ease.
Though silence fills the empty space, your spirit still shines bright,
Your memory, a warm embrace, a never-ending light.

Bridge

Just one sweet word, a special plea, to call you back, you'd always hear,
"Biscuit," I'd whisper, just for thee, and all my worries disappear.
A simple word, a sacred bond, a promise whispered, soft and low,

My faithful friend, beyond, beyond, the truest love I'll ever know.

Instrumental - harmonica solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Clipper, my dear boy, twelve years flew by like a gentle breeze,
You taught me love, you brought me joy, you brought my heart to ease.

Though silence fills the empty space, your spirit still shines bright,
Your memory, a warm embrace, a never-ending light.

Outro

Now you're running, fast and free, with Summer, Winston, side by side,
Through fields of spring hay, wild and glee, where endless happiness can hide.

My Clipper, rest in joyful peace, your spirit soaring, light and strong,
Until we meet, my love's release, where you truly belong.

Outro - guitar fade
