Sandy's Soulful Sleep

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, pads

Verse 1

First time we met, a tiny cat,
You gazed deep into my soul, that's a fact.
Each night you'd settle, small and new,
As I put baby Sandy to bed with you.

Chorus

Sandy, my love, a gentle purr,
For eighteen years, you were my cure.
My heart still aches, a silent plea,
I carry your light within me.

Verse 2

The twilight hours, a gentle tune,
Our special bond beneath the moon.
Bedtime singing, soft and low,
The quiet moments where true love would grow.
A gentle nudge, a sleepy yawn,
You're nestled close until the dawn.

Chorus

Sandy, my love, a gentle purr,
For eighteen years, you were my cure.
My heart still aches, a silent plea,
I carry your light within me.

Verse 3

Through sunny days and falling rain,

Sandy's Soulful Sleep (continued)

You eased my heart, relieved my pain.
A silent shadow, soft and true,
My loyal friend, I leaned on you.
In every room, a memory clear,
Whispering comfort, you are still here.

Bridge

I whisper now, into the air,
"I miss you so much, beyond compare."
And know this truth, my sweet, sweet friend,
"I love you so much, until the end."

Instrumental - cello, piano

Final Chorus

Sandy, my love, a gentle purr,
For eighteen years, you were my cure.
My heart still aches, a silent plea,
I carry your light within me.

Outro

Now you're watching, from a peaceful place,
No more pain upon your grace.
Running free or in slumber deep,
My sweet Sandy, your memory I keep.

Outro - piano fade
