Simba's Golden Fields

A Tribute Song

Intro - strings, French horn

Verse 1

The day we met, a gentle lean,
A patterned coat, a sight serene.
My head on yours, a silent plea,
A bond began, just you and me.
A Catahoula, strong and keen,
The brightest friend I'd ever seen.

Chorus

Oh, Simba, my brave heart so true,
Three golden years, spent here with you.
Your spirit bright, a guiding star,
No matter how far you are.
Across the miles, beyond the blue,
My dearest Simba, I miss you.

Verse 2

The winding path, a summer's day,
Just us two, come what may.
Those quiet walks, a treasured art,
Etched forever in my heart.
Your focused gaze, your joyful stride,
Always steady by my side.

Chorus

Oh, Simba, my brave heart so true,
Three golden years, spent here with you.
Your spirit bright, a guiding star,
No matter how far you are.

Across the miles, beyond the blue,
My dearest Simba, I miss you.

Verse 3

My loyal shadow, always near,
You banished every doubt and fear.
With loving nudges, soft and low,
You'd let us know it's time to go.
A gentle stroke upon your face,
You filled our home with joy and grace.

Bridge

A final whisper, soft and low,
Thank you for everything, more than you know.
My dearest friend, my gentle guide,
Please wait for me, just on the other side.

Instrumental - strings, woodwinds

Final Chorus

Oh, Simba, my brave heart so true,
Three golden years, spent here with you.
Your spirit bright, a guiding star,
No matter how far you are.
Across the miles, beyond the blue,
My dearest Simba, I miss you.

Outro

Now in the fields, so wide and free,
Running through grass, wild as can be.
A sunlit dream, a happy sound,
Till we meet again on hallowed ground.

Outro - strings fade
