Oakley's Secret Heart

A Tribute Song

Intro - ukulele, acoustic guitar

Verse 1

A fat little Shih Tzu, with secrets to keep
Though small in your stature, your spirit ran deep
You thought you were fierce, a big dog in disguise
With that judging look in your sweet, knowing eyes
Loved walks on the property, wind in your fur
And riding the John Deere, a happy little blur
My best friend, through every sunshine and rain
You eased every heartache, you quieted pain.

Chorus

Oh, Oakley, my Oakley, so precious and true
Eleven amazing years, spent here with you
A celebration of joy, a love that won't cease
My sweet baby girl, now finding your peace.

Verse 2

Our mornings were sacred, a comforting hold
Your cuddles, a story that never grew old
A routine you honored, you'd check on my Mom
Before our own walk, a peaceful, sweet balm
Your toys were your treasures, especially one friend
A stuffed horse you loved right until the very end
Such simple delights, a heart full of glee
Your playful spirit, forever with me.

Chorus

Oh, Oakley, my Oakley, so precious and true
Eleven amazing years, spent here with you

A celebration of joy, a love that won't cease
My sweet baby girl, now finding your peace.

Bridge

You were the keeper of secrets, a piece of my soul
You made all my broken parts feel perfectly whole
Though heartache lingers, and tears gently fall
I will see you again, babygirl, answering love's call.

Ukulele Solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Oakley, my Oakley, so precious and true
Eleven amazing years, spent here with you
A celebration of joy, a love that won't cease
My sweet baby girl, now finding your peace.

Outro

Now playing with Marley, on soft grassy ground
Bobby and Dad watch you, love all around
Ears rubbed every so often, so many new friends
And Chuck by your side, a reunion that transcends
At peace by a stream, where the soft grasses sway
My Oakley, forever, you're just a thought away.

Forever in our hearts
