Piper Rose's Morning Light

A Tribute Song

Intro - ukulele, acoustic guitar

Verse 1

A loyal friend, a Lab mix true,
With a sweet spirit shining through.
Your cutest face, a happy sight,
Your little bark, so pure and bright.
When someone came, a joyful sound,
The happiest pup I'd ever found.
Meeting dogs, your tail would wag,
No moment with you ever dragged.

Chorus

Oh, Piper Rose, my morning light,
You filled my world with pure delight.
Twelve wonderful years, a precious span,
The best companion, little friend.

Verse 2

Those blueberry mornings, fresh and new,
My special conversations with you.
We'd talk of dreams and skies so blue,
Your positive words, always true.
A gentle soul, so kind and wise,
Reflected in your loving eyes.
Every moment, a cherished part,
Forever etched within my heart.

Chorus

Oh, Piper Rose, my morning light,
You filled my world with pure delight.

Piper Rose's Morning Light (continued)

Twelve wonderful years, a precious span,
The best companion, little friend.

Verse 3

Through twelve sweet years, your love so grand,
A silent comfort, close at hand.
You'd greet me gladly at the door,
And fill my heart with joy galore.
Each gentle sigh, each sleepy yawn,
A perfect way to greet the dawn.
My furry shadow, ever near,
You banished every doubt and fear.

Bridge

I miss you and I love you so,
More than these simple words can show.
But in my heart, I understand,
No pain can touch you in that land.

Ukulele Solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Piper Rose, my morning light,
You filled my world with pure delight.
Twelve wonderful years, a precious span,
The best companion, little friend.

Outro

Now running free, with joyful stride,
With all your siblings by your side.
No longer weary, soft and deep,
Sweet memories that I will keep.

Outro - flute fade
