Brody's Everlasting Light

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, piano

Verse 1

From the moment you came, a fluff of white snow,
An American Eskimo, ready to go.
Your zoomies were legendary, a joyful, wild chase,
Even mud puddles couldn't wipe the smile from your face.
With Eklipse beside you, a bond true and deep,
Our happy house secrets you'd faithfully keep.
Every day a warm welcome, when I walked through the door,
You'd greet me with gladness, always wanting more.

Chorus

Oh Brody, dear Brody, my loyal, sweet friend,
Fourteen and a half years, right until the end.
You filled every moment with laughter and grace,
A bright, shining light, in this hallowed space.

Verse 2

When the day settled down, and the evening drew near,
On the couch by my side, banishing all fear.
Watching TV together, a quiet embrace,
Your warm, gentle presence, lighting up the place.
A furry companion, so loyal and so true,
My heart beats a rhythm, forever for you.

Chorus

Oh Brody, dear Brody, my loyal, sweet friend,
Fourteen and a half years, right until the end.
You filled every moment with laughter and grace,
A bright, shining light, in this hallowed space.

Bridge

I'll always love you, with a piece of my heart,

You gave so much more, right from the start.
More kindness, more laughter, more love pure and true,
I miss you each day, in all that I do.

Instrumental - mandolin, drums

Final Chorus

Oh Brody, dear Brody, my loyal, sweet friend,
Fourteen and a half years, right until the end.
You filled every moment with laughter and grace,
A bright, shining light, in this hallowed space.

Outro

Now you're running in heaven, with Eklipse so bright,
Following Barnaby, in endless delight.
No pain for you now, just jumps in the air,
Spending time with grandma, beyond all our care.
Free and joyful forever, a spirit so free,
Waiting patiently, watching over me.

Outro - guitar fade
