
Angel's Soft Embrace

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, synth pads

Verse 1

I remember when you came into view,
With big loving eyes, so warm and true.
A long fluffy tail, a squirrel's delight,
Seemed bigger than you in the pale moonlight.
A tiny soft shadow, a quiet grace,
Filling our home, finding your space.
A delicate whisper, a purr in the air,
Leaving paw prints beyond all compare.

Chorus

Oh, Angel, my dear, our sweet little friend,
Four and a half years, from start to the end.
You taught us of love, soft and deep,
Secrets of comfort, the heart loves to keep.

Verse 2

There's a special memory I hold so tight,
Of you climbing up in the fading light.
Across my shoulders, you'd gently recline,
A warm, furry scarf, beautifully mine.
Your tiny paws kneading, a soft, rhythmic sway,
Chasing the worries of my day away.
A silent companion, always so near,
Whispering solace, banishing fear.

Chorus

Oh, Angel, my dear, our sweet little friend,
Four and a half years, from start to the end.
You taught us of love, soft and deep,
Secrets of comfort, the heart loves to keep.

Verse 3

Angel's Soft Embrace (continued)

You'd wait by the door, a sweet greeting there,
Standing so tall, for a lift in the air.
And when I felt heavy, you somehow would know,
Curling so close, helping my spirits to grow.
Those highest of shelves, a mysterious flight,
Now no loud trucks disturb your gentle night.

Chorus

Oh, Angel, my dear, our sweet little friend,
Four and a half years, from start to the end.
You taught us of love, soft and deep,
Secrets of comfort, the heart loves to keep.

Bridge

Though goodbyes are spoken, the hardest to bear,
I whispered to you, floating on air.
"It's okay Angel, I love you," I softly said,
As peace gently covered your sweet little head.

Instrumental - strings, piano

Final Chorus

Oh, Angel, my dear, our sweet little friend,
Four and a half years, from start to the end.
You taught us of love, soft and deep,
Secrets of comfort, the heart loves to keep.

Outro

Now you're napping soundly, peaceful and deep,
On a huge, soft pillow, while memories sleep.
Dreaming sweet dreams, in a comforting place,
Forever adored, in our hearts, Angel's grace.

Outro - piano fade
